Nails on the chalkboard
I dream and then I see your face again
Words you were singing years ago
It feels like yesterday

But I'm coming around
I can only get to sleep to the sound of white noise
Can you hear me through the static?
White noise, put your plane on automatic

Late in the evening, I'm out again
Looking for a friend
Lost in the music and then again
I hear your voice again

Five hundred watts, ain't no wonder
That my ears are shot from the sound of white noise
Can you hear me through the static?
White noise, put your plane on automatic

Nails on the chalkboard
I dream and then I see your face again
Words you were singing years ago
It feels like yesterday

And I'm coming around
I can only get to sleep to the sound of white noise
(Can you hear me?)
Can you hear me through the static?
White noise, put your plane on automatic
(Can you hear me?)

White noise
Can you hear me through the static?
White noise, put your plane on automatic
(Can you hear me?)

White noise
White noise
White noise
White noise
