Remember when; how it was then?
Summers in, winter's so last season
Too long ago, how we have grown
All these paths with too many choices
Where are we?
Where are we going?

These are the best days of our lives
Watch as they pass by
It's so hard but we are holding on
These are the best days of our lives
Watch as they pass by
It's so hard but we are holding on

Stop time because we are ticking away again (again)
Can we get back?
Let's get back to when we had things so easy
I'm rethinking myself and who I want to be
Life's not a destination; it's a journey
And I'm so ready to follow

Where are we?
Where are we going?

These are the best days of our lives
Watch as they pass by
It's so hard but we are holding on
These are the best days of our lives
Watch as they pass by
It's so hard but we are holding on

These are the best days of our lives
These are the days, these are the days
