No greater love, no lesser grace
No greater distance than the one that I have made
You crave my heart and miss our quiet time alone
Have I become as hard as stone?

I need a one man revival, a renewing of my heart
To capture me before I stray too far
It's the one thing I cry for and the only way I know
Is a one man revival

In my soul I know I've turned away it seems
Yet you pursue me while I'm busy chasing dreams
My dreams aren't worth the sacrifice of my first love
What I should be dreamin' of

I need a one man revival, a renewing of my heart
To capture me before I stray too far
It's the one thing I cry for and the only way I know
Is a one man revival

In my heart I'm disappointed
How my perfect world should be
But if I'm gonna see a change
There's got to be a change in me

I need a one man revival, a renewing of my heart
To capture me before I stray too far
It's the one thing I cry for and the only way I know
Is a one man revival, just a one man revival
Just a one man revival
