You are my friend
I always thought we were invincible
But I can't pretend
That something strange aint come between us now

I believe in love
I believe in love
I believe in love
But do you?

You are my mate
For years they said we were inseparable
But I can't relate
Cos lately we've been going differently

I believe in love
I believe in love
I believe in love
But do you?

And it's true everybody knows
People come and people go
You mean much more to me
I don't want one of those to be you
But I really don't know what I can do

I believe in love
But do you?

You are my friend
We've always had an understanding, yeah
I can't comprehend
How we're both talking different languages

I believe in love
I believe in love
I believe in love
But do you?

And it's true everybody knows
People come and people go

You mean much more to me
I don't one of those to be you
But I really don't know what I can do

I believe in making up
I believe in making up
I believe in making up
I believe in taking up
I believe in shaking up
I believe in making up
Do you?
