Goodnight Bullcreek
You were the world to me
Now you're just a well worn post code for the memories

I drove down your road
Searching for I don't know
I was hoping I might find Something I'd left long behind

I stayed up all night thinking of ways to tell you
That my whole life I been here waiting for you
Now my heart is blind
And I'm losing my mind
When you love someone so much it hurts

Stuck in two minds
Under a starlit sky
With the pitter patter footsteps
Of the passers by
While I chose the road
The road less travelled by
And sometimes its dark and lonely
Living with all your if onlys
But the hardest part of it all
Aint the pictures hung in the hall
But the silent screed in the night
Turning out my broken light

I stayed up all night thinking of ways to tell you
That my whole life I been here waiting for you
Now my heart is blind
And I'm losing my mind
When you love someone so much it hurts

When you love someone so much
Really love someone so much
When you love someone so much it really hurrurr hurrurr hurts
When you love someone so much it hurts
