You let it out
When the world collides
The deepest sigh
Then you close your eyes and then
The words come out
And you wanna shout inside
But you hold your tongue
And hope they come out right

You let it out
When the world collides
I can't wait to make this happen
I wrote it down on a paper napkin that said

'Your eyes burn like stars tonight'
And you watch me from above
Houston we have a problem
I left my heart back home tonight
If this world keeps spinning faster
I don't think I'll get it back in time
I know I've never been there but
It must be nice this time of year
These words come flowing out my chest
So let me know if I'm making sense

You let it out
Then you're gone
You let it out again and it's out again
