Awopopalubapalambamboom
Do you really want to know what I think of you

You can't get up but you won't step down
The ideal king for this fucked up town

You could have come from anywhere
But it had to be from here
We could do without you fine
If we had a little time

But we've got other things to care for
We've got other things in mind

Awopopalubapalambamboom
I like your place and I like your shoes

What's your size, can I try them on
And if they fit can I rule this town

They could have been mine anyway
If I could have had my say
We could do without you fine
If we had a little time

But we've got other things to care for
We've got other things in mind
