"Amusement Park"

The cigarette is no longer fragrant, how can it be smoked?
The lights are no longer bright, how can I see the photos?
That double bed cannot resolve too many desires

I might as well find a place where I want to go There's no need to think about it, a happy place...amusement park

Walking about wide streets and narrow alleys, I can only hear shouting I raise my head to look at the moon, couldn't find a skylight
Is there a place where I want to go?
There's no need to wander about aimlessly...a place of amusement

I might as well find a place where I want to go
There's no need to think about it, a happy place

Listen; an out-of-tune voice Look; song and dance galore Come; to heaven and take a look Come; go crazy, go crazy
