"Roll Over And Die"

You forsake me
No one walks away, not this time
If you can't take this
There's only one way out

It's over and done, this whole thing
Roll over and die tonight

And if I couldn't hold you
I'd end it all
I wish I could have told you why

In this world, I've got no choice
There is nothing left at all
You don't notice, but that's alright
You don't know what it's like

Some days I can barely rise
But you didn't realize
I close my eyes for you
