Witness a blinding light, sudden bright light from a blast

Pulsing radiation moving through cracks under skin

Feel the fire in the wind

Deadly kiss of scorching sands

Not a prayer of hope or redemption in your eyes

Hell exploded on this earth to take all that's alive

Standing at the face of death

Terror stealing your last breath

Watch the firestorm incinerate you into ash

All that you know burns away into dust

So many lives

So many innocent

Burn

Every particle returns to its natural form

Ashes into ashes blown away just like the dust

Heaven burning with the sky

Hell is not the reason why

Feel the firestorm melting your spirit into glass

All that you know burns away into dust

So many lives

So many innocent

Burn

So many lives

So many innocent

All that you know burns away into dust

So many lives

So many innocent

So many lives

So many innocent

So many lives

So many innocent

Burn
Burn
Burn
Burn
