I am a self contained machine
Prefabricated, no sympathy
My mind laid bare to world depression
My man made soul in isolation

I have been scraped by humanity
Darkness confines every injury

I must make witness with bitterness
Concealed existence of countless dead
I'm not a walking form of waste
Amassed illusion burning disgrace

I have been scraped by humanity
Darkness confines every injury

Deprivation has been forced on me
I am losing all of my memories

My reality
My heart is a dark shade of metallic dust
My heart is a dark shade of metallic dust

I have been scraped by humanity
Darkness confines every injury

Deprivation has been forced on me
I am losing all of my memories
They are nothing more to me than a dream
I reject all visions of reality
Visions of reality
Reality
