This is a world of shit
Nothing can be so perfect
Writhing in oceans of waste
I died just for the taste
For the taste, for the taste

One more thing before you leave this
On your knees and beg forgiveness

A new threshold of pain
And we rise from the flames
Swarm through your head like flies
Insects of your demise
Your demise, your demise

One more thing before you leave this
On your knees and beg forgiveness

Look at me as you pray
Like a ghost, you fade away
You fade away, you fade away
You fade away

One more thing before you leave this
On your knees and beg forgiveness

One more thing before you leave this
On your knees and beg forgiveness
