

Fear My Thoughts

"The Masters Call"

Day by day for the past few years
Longer than you can recall
You sold your body and your soul
You gave away all your power that you had in you
Instead of living your own life

Obey the masters call!
You feed their need for more!

The clothes that you were given
Never spread the warmth you need
To cure your growing sickness
A promise never kept

Obey the masters call!
To feed their greed for more

Obey the masters! Crawl!
You feed their greed for more
Obey the masters call!
You need their greed for more!

Obeyed the masters call - you feed their endless greed for more
Obeyed the masters call -
you fed their greed

Obeyed the masters call
You lived an illusion

Obey the masters! Crawl!
You feed their greed for more
Obey the masters call!
You need their greed

Obeyed the masters call -
you feed their endless greed for more
Obeyed the masters call -
you fed their greed

Work, eat sleep your living

Avoid the laziness to feel alive
Work, eat sleep your living
Avoid the laziness to feel alive
Until they felt,
they would earn more without you

Day by day for the past few years
Longer than you can recall
You sold your body for nothing but a lie

Obeded the master call!
Believed the lies they told

Soon be the masters gone!
Deny their greed for more

Soon be the masters gone!
Deny their endless greed for more!
Soon be the masters gone!
Decay their endless greed for more!
