

Fear My Thoughts "When Will It End"

No way out- neither through screaming nor through crying
Only fleeing and hiding seems to make sense Day by day I go through hell- my own one created by me
In me hope keeps me alive- nothing else to hold on to I want to end it- I have to end it- I want to leave it all behind It's grinding me- I have to liberate me- I have to leave it all behind Recalling the memories- when will it end

What I left behind. The feeling is so real. Recalling what I've lost- pushes my power away Regarding what I leave behind, the feeling is still so real- so painful
Recalling what I've lost pushes away every power This numb feeling the agony has to end- no other thought enters my head Nothing else has a name Freedom, freedom - I don't care how much to pay
