I don't know where I'm going
And I don't know where I've been
I don't know any of your names
And now my heart is showing
You've seen all of my dreams
But if I could change for you
I'd change I would
But if I could change for you
I'd change I would
I would
But if I could change for you

I've chosen a different train now, Oh,
A different train of perspective
The pictures I paint are sharper now
I think that it's a shame how,
My addictions are reflective
But if I could change for you
I'd change I would
But if I could change for you
I'd change I would
I would
If I could change for you
I would

And the lights shine bright in Tokyo tonight
The heat it burns in Tokyo tonight
And the light has stopped in Tokyo tonight
We're all so far away in Tokyo tonight...
If I could change for you
I'd change I would
Yeah if I could change for you
I'd change I would
I would
Oh, If I could change for you I would
