I've seen so many mounds of earth
From all of the holes that you've dug
Don't let them scare you anymore
Scared of a tear in the next lane
Lead your memories astray
To fit in with the modd on this brand new day

I still see so much beauty in this world
Don't make a sound, Don't touch the ground
Thinking positive...
We still see so much beauty in this world
Don't make a sound, Don't touch the ground
Thinking...

Oh the sail's are torn and the rush is gone
And the sun is reborn, reborn...
We'll catch the next wave out of this rut
My blood it pumps harder, becomes the armada
Nothing will cure it, You've got to endure it

I still see so much beauty in this world
Don't make a sound, Don't touch the ground
Thinking positive...
We still see so much beauty in this world
Don't make a sound, Don't touch the ground
Thinking...

Oh the sail's are torn and the rush is gone
And the sun is reborn, reborn...

Oil, Oil season
Oil, Oil

I still see so much beauty in this world
Don't make a sound, Don't touch the ground
Thinking positive...
We still see so much beauty in this world
Don't make a sound, Don't touch the ground
Thinking...

Oh the sail's are torn and the rush is gone

And the sun is reborn, reborn...
