Joinin' up the black dotted lines Driftin' back in space in time Remember how it used to be? She said, she said to me

Steppin' out across a railway line Drawn to walls of moonless sky Remember how it used to be? She said, she said to me Remember how it used to be?

Don't say there's nothin', nothin' We can make this happen, happen All this time you knew

Now it always makes perfect sense A face of innocence Sending it all back to me She did, she did to me

Watchin' those blue eyes turn to green Every second, every blink Remember how it used to be? She said, she said, she said

Don't say there's nothin', nothin' We can make this happen, happen All this time you knew Don't say it's over, forgotten We can make this happen Happen, happen, happen

Swallow the words, swallow the pain All we've broken, all we've made All forgiven, always sane, he's sane He's sane, he's sane, he's sane

Joinin' up the black dotted lines Driftin' back in space in time Remember how it used to be?

Don't say there's nothin', nothin'

We can make this happen, happen All this time you knew Don't say it's over, forgotten We can make this happen Happen, happen, happen
