Sitting back I only wish
Today will turn out fine
And wash away the stain
The poison in my eyes
What do you recommend
I feel my life descending
I'm falling out of reach
Catch me as I bleed (again).
If I could be all by myself
I could be me
If you could see, live with my pain
The thoughts that I keep.
I hate the way they are
Their patronising thoughts
Tried to get inside my head
Ask the question I have read
But one thing makes it hard
Feel so fragile as I cry
So confused yet so alive
So abused the system lied
You lied to me.
If I could be all by myself
I could be me
If you could see, live with my pain
The thoughts that I keep.
Alone...alone.
Hands appeared around my neck
Felt so hard to breathe I stared
As my focus turned to haze
I could see them.
If I could be all by myself
I could be me
If you could see, live with my pain
The thoughts that I keep.
If I could be all by myself
I could be free
If you could see, live with my pain
The thoughts that I keep
Alone, alone, alone.
Descend....descend.
