I'm cracking up but now I'm filling in the gaps with glue
With every minute every hour there's a different view
It's not that I'm unhappy al the time but I feel used
I feel it closing in the rocketman has lit his fuse

Oh yeah, buzz!
Oh yeah, oh yeah

The clock is ticking in the kitchen as I walk away
The tap is dripping, I keep twitching as I concentrate There's people passing, old men gasping as they climb
the way
There's children smoking, drivers cursing as they go insane

Oh yeah, buzz!
Oh yeah, oh yeah

Just feel I'm choking won't you give me what I want for my disease?
I feel I'm drowning going under as I lose again
And again, and again, and again...
I need a buzz, I need a buzz, I need a buzz...
