We're laughing in the face of fear again
We close our eyes and watch it disappear
Stepping on the stones as we sink in
We jump into the fires of hopelessness, forever

Cause it's falling again, catch me
We've swallowed the pills and the pain ...
It's falling again but no one sees
It's a 21st century melt down ...

Submitted to the fears of loneliness
Degenerate and jumping of the edge
We build our homes but live inside out heads
Hoping that the dream will keep us sane, forever ...

Cause it's falling again, catch me
We've swallowed the pills and the pain
It's falling again but no one sees
It's a 21st century melt down
It's a 21st century melt down
