Seatbelt locked to collar bone
It's digging into skin
In the backseat of the passenger
I caress my hands with the wind
It almost feels like I'm floating
High above the headlights
On this winding road
And that's when I know

When was the last time I felt right?
When was the last time I jumped in?
When was the last time I fell down?
When was the last time I helped?
It almost feels as though I'm born again
I can't remember anything
It's just not there

Sometimes I feel the earth move
When I'm staying still
It feels like nothing else
That you've seen or heard or felt
Like watching falling stars
Wondering how far they fall
Sometimes I shut my eyes
But I still see the light

When was the last time I felt right?
When was the last time I jumped in?
When was the last time I fell down?
When was the last time I helped?
It almost feels as though I'm born again
I can't remember anything

It's just not there

Sometimes I sway
You make me think so fast
My brain fights to see if it outlasts my heart
My brain fights to see if it outlasts my heart
My brain fights to see if it outlasts my heart
My brain fights to see if it outlasts my heart
