Only your cynical jealousy
Could help me understand your misery
Hide behind the walls of your policy
Manipulation and hypocrisy

And when the leaves return to grey
We'll see the ending of your reign
You won't believe the change in wave
When all the leaves return to grey

High on authorities left to you
Your medals rusting in the frames
Forced to walk the past that was overdue
You lose it all except your name

And when the leaves return to grey
We'll see the ending of your reign

You won't believe the change in wave
When all the leaves return to grey

Cuz I walk on your stage
Even when the roof begins to cave
I walk on your stage
See the evolution of my rage

And when the leaves return to grey
We'll see the ending of your reign
You won't believe the change in wave
When all the leaves return to grey

Cuz I walk on your stage
Even when the roof begins to cave
I walk on your stage
See the evolution of my rage
