It's all starting to happen now
I can feel us grow strong

Well I expected not to see another face that believed like I do
We have been through everything expected and now we all belong

We now all belong

Take my advice I think that you are gonna need it Don't rush yourself you've got to make up your mind
Make up your mind, you must decide

We now all belong

We don't know what's coming next is this our time?

Time will take everything we have and put it on the line
Time will take everything we have and Burn it on the line
We'll burn it all
We'll burn it on the line

We don't know what's coming next is this our time?

line
We'll burn it all
We'll burn it on the line
