Real accidence never happen
Somebody's always behind the scenes
I got lost on this battlefield
No sure where to go
Or who I'm fighting for

And if love only gives us
Another change
To step out
From this dying romance

And if you don't love me
And if you don't need me
Then I don't want the same mistakes
And if you don't love me
And if you don't need me
Then I don't want the guilt and the shame

All the rules controlled by fear
Won't give me comfort on this time of despair
Countless days and countless nights
I've been drifting on my dark side

All false delutions
Or made up solutions
They can't save us now
This blinding confusion
And just one conclusion
It buries me down
