

Bob Schneider

"Let The Light In"

Visit "Let The Light In" on MotoLyrics.com

The wicked witch of Cincinnati, pulled out her old broom Dusted off the spiders and cobwebs and used it
To fly on down to Cleveland for the weekend
'Cause she thought it would was time to do some freakin'
And it'd been so long since she didn't feel Bad not spending all her time making people feel Sad no more now she's made up her mind
Put on that old dress and get herself looking real Fine all up in the club drinking Hennessey Oh my, what a mess, I must confess that...

It's alright to let your hair down
Let your heart out
Let the light in, let the light in
It's alright, let the light in, let the light in again

Well the lion and the tin man showed up at the spot
The wicked witch walked in, said, "Show me what you got"
The lion ran for cover and the tin man didn't move
The band started playing this groove and...

Next thing you know there was magic in the air
No one saw it coming, it wasn't too clear
And the tin man said, "I don't know how to Do this baby. Maybe you could show me how". She said...

It's alright to let your hair down
Let your heart out
Let the light in, let the light in
It's alright, let the light in, let the light in again

And they danced in the darkness on the floor
The world kept spinning round like it's always done before
The people in the club said they don't make a pretty pair
But the tin man and the witch, they didn't seem to care

No, 'cause love don't give a damn about what other people say
It does what it wants; it's always been that way
That's the way it was, the way it will be again
Forever and ever and ever, amen...

Let the light in, let the light in
Let the light in, let the light in
Let the light in, let the light in
Let the light in, let the light in

Let the light in, let the light in
Let the light in

Visit Bob Schneider page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.

MotoLyrics.com | Lyrics, music videos, artist biographies, releases and more.