Speak clearly he said, but didn't see
He acted that way
And held me like a cup

Fill me up and pour me out
Realize the doubt
We had the same feelings
The opposite time

And a good man, and a good woman
Can't find the good in each other
And a good man, and a good woman
Will bring out the worst in the other
The bad in each other

The word in love, to find us now
When we'll become two Floating into the blue, and (the meet on with her) (?)
the sadness could lose, either without or within

And a good man, and a good woman
Can't find the beauty in each other
And a good man, and a good woman
Bring out the worst in the other

When a good man, and that good woman
Can't find the good in each other
And a good man and a good woman
Bring out the worst in the other, the bad in each other
