What's been happening what's been happening
While I've been away you know I've been away
What's been going on what's been going down
While I've been away you know I've been away
What's been going on while I've been away
What's been going down all this suffering
Is just the price we pay it's just the price we pay

For such a lonely day
It's just the price we pay for such a lonely day
What is in your mind yeah what is in your mind
Is it that hard to find my darkest light will shine
Yes I've been away yes I've been away
Now I'm here to stay you know I'm back to stay
