Don't count the diamonds in her wedding band until
she wears it on her hand I once believed in all she told me my faithful bride she was to be But then a thief walked in between us and stole her love away from me
Don't count the diamonds in her wedding band until
she wears it on her hand
Don't count the diamonds in her wedding band until
she wears it on her hand
My heart has finally learned this lesson to never love just anyone
You can't believe on someone's promise until the promise has been done

So don't count the diamonds in her wedding band until she wears it on her hand
