"I Know You're Going Away"

I know the heartaches are coming cause I know you're going away
There's no gladness in your voice when you say darling There's no love behind your lips when they touch mine There's no feeling in your arms when they're around me
How much --- could you say it's goodbye time I know the heartaches are coming I know the sky will turn grey
I know the the tears will start falling cause I know you're going away

Arms that were friends now are strangers eyes that could see now are blind

Only tomorrows of sorrow from the day that you leave me behind
I know the heartaches are coming...
