"Lasting Love"

I want a lasting love that's guarantee to stay
I'm tired of having fun just loving anyone Not more and good be holding hands with me when midnight comes
It may seem all right then but when it's said and done
This old heart of mine is right back where it started from
I want a lasting love no more goodbye love
I'm through with temporary love that's undependable
Goodbye to yesterdays hello to better days
I want a lasting love that's guarantee to stay

I've truly had my share of insincere affair

Yet that's same old emptiness inside it's always there I'm glad I've finally seen a change just had to be Here today and gone tomorrow love is not for me
I want a lasting love...
I want a lasting love that's guarantee to stay
