(Johnny Horton - T.E. Bland)

I've died a thousand times since you went away
Life is just a heartache I'm lonely night and day
I pray that you'll come back and love me ever more
And make me live again like you made me live before.

Make me live again life has vanished since you've gone
This world I'm living in is so empty and alone
I pray that you'll come back and love me ever more
And make me live again like you made me live before.

--- Instrumental ---

Make me live again life has vanished since you've gone
This world I'm living in is so empty and alone
I pray that you'll come back and love me ever more
And make me live again like you made me live before...
