(Buddy Killen)

A lonely room a window pane
Misted by the falling rain
Is all I have now to comfort me
Till you come back again.

A telephone that never ring
An empty heart that never sing
Is all I have now to comfort me
Till you come back again.

I'm sure I could find another love
But you're the one the only one that I'd be thinking of.

The rain may stop and clear the sky
The sun may shine my window dry
My phone may ring but my heart won't sing
Till you come back again.

The rain may stop and clear the sky
The sun may shine my window dry
My phone may ring but my heart won't sing
Till you come back again...
