So you're leavin' with your new love in the mornig
And I know your angel-smile no more I'll see
You are taking with you all my sunshine
And I hope you will be happy but what about me
If I knew then what I know now I wouldn't be crying
But a true and trusting heart is too blind to see
I hate to think of you in the arms of another
Still I hope you will be happy but what about me Every hour of every day I'll be hoping you'll be safe from the rolling stormy sea
I wish you love and all the good things forever

And I hope you will be happy but what about me
[piano]
Every hour of every day...
