Softer now the silence

Waiting for the light to change
Brighter than yesterday
I see something new on the horizon

I finally dealt with all the pain
As time has slowly passed away
And now I'm heading on
To where I need to be

No more stops along the way
Waste of time is yesterday
Chasing after dreams that aren't even my own

Softer now the silence

Here's to life
Here's to the better times
Here's to the thought of something
New and different
Come what may
I'll be fine
You'll see in time

Finally now I've found a way
To fill the void that hollowed me
Casting down my fear and disillusion

I'm reaching for a higher mark
No more crawling in the dark
With the light of life illuminating
New desires inside my heart
Diving into deeper thought
Making real for me what you could only dream

Softer now the screaming

Here's to life
Here's to the better times
Here's to the thought of something
New and different

Come what may
I'll be fine
You'll see in time

Here's to life
Here's to the better times
Here's to the thought of something
New and different
Come what may
I'll be fine
You'll see in time

Here's to life
Here's to the better times
Here's to the thought of something
New and different
Come what may
I'll be fine
You'll see in time
