Think about the place behind your eyes
Then think about the darkness, when you turn out the lights
Think about the space between the notes
Well, that's the Danchiva, don't ask me where it goes

Rollin', rollin', shifting like the sands
Rollin', rollin', twisting in the wind
Never looking back again

Find the darkest night that you can find
And see if you can read between the lines
'Cause in between your memories
Desires and your dreams
You'll find the Danchiva naturally

Rollin', rollin', shifting like the sands
Rollin', rollin', twisting in the wind
Never looking back again

Go to the seashore one fine day
Pretend that you're a bubble on a wave
Ocean keeps on going, bubble bound to break
Leaving Danchiva in the wake

Rollin', rollin', shifting like the sands
Rollin', rollin', twisting in the wind
Never looking back again
