Shot me in the head
I have no reason to live
I'm already dead
And you always forget

I run, but your words stay by my side
I hide, but your words know where to find me
I kill, God will you forgive me now?
I die, but heaven never came around

Now you cry, cry all you want
And i've died, and you just don't know
All alone, no one's by my side
And i know, this is what i wanted...

I run, but your words stay by my side
I hide, but your words know where to find me
I kill, God will you forgive me now?
I die, but heaven never came around

Back to the start, i've started a new life
You broke my heart, but the pieces were rebuilt
Now im on display, take apart what you want I'll be back another day, to pick up what you stole from me

I run, but your words stay by my side
I hide, but your words know where to find me
I kill, God will you forgive me now?
I die, but heaven never came around
