I thought that number one would surely be me
I thought I could be what I wanted to be
I thought that I could build on lives sinking in sand
But I realize I can't even walk without You holding my hand
I thought that I could do a lot on my own
I thought I, I thought I could make it all alone
I thought, I thought of myself as a mighty, mighty big man
But I realize I can't even walk without You holding my
Lord, I can't even walk without You holding my hand Because the mountains are so high and the valleys are so wide
I'm down on my knees, I had to say
Lord, I can't even walk without You holding my hand
Lord, I can't even walk without You holding my hand Because the mountains are so high and the valleys are
so wide
I'm down on my knees, I had to say
Lord, I can't even walk without You holding my hand
Lord, I can't even walk without You holding my hand
Lord, I can't even walk without You holding my hand
