I look around asking me why
You lost yourself inside you
It seems like nowhere for you to escape

When love has lost any meaning for you
You drown in empty sorrow
You ask yourself what is up for my fate

Tell me what happens now
Is this where we must stop
Tell me is this what we've become

As loneliness nears you stare and wonder
If you are a name or just a number
As loneliness nears you stare and wonder

It's cold as hell when we distance ourselves
To give us not the answers
I hope to find in you the same tenderness

Tell me what happens now
Is this where we must stop
Tell me is this what we've become

As loneliness nears you stare and wonder
If you are a name or just a number
Alone in the dark with your fear and thunder
The beat of your heart sounds as loudest thunder

As loneliness nears you stare and wonder
If you are a name or just a number
Alone in the dark with your fear and thunder
The beat of your heart sounds as loudest thunder
