The risk of opening up
It makes me feel vulnerable
When your heart is naked
Everything can hurt you more, hurt you more
Hurt you more, hurt you more
Show me something new
Show me what will I do?
We have to swallow our pride
It's much better to cry
Show me, show me, show me the truth
If you are willing to trust
Things can be better
I really know that you gave your best
But I know I can choke you
Suffocate you with love
Show me something new
Show me what will I do?
We have to swallow our pride
It's much better to cry
Show me, show me, show me the truth
Now show me, show me, show me the truth
Rubbing salt
Into the wound
Could turn a small scratch into an irrupting volcano
You thought could be simple
How could it be, with love
This powerful
To move up
We have to flee or fear
The dragon of our life
If you are going to stand up
And fight for what we have
Say the words you're hiding and you holding to
Show me something new
Show me what will I do?
We have to swallow our pride
It's much better to cry
Show me, show me, show me the truth
Show me something new
Show me what will I do?
We have to swallow our pride
It's much better to cry

Show me, show me, show me the truth
Now show me, show me, show me the truth
