To be honest I don't like to follow rules
And let me tell you what I think is my own truth
And to be honest I don't like to be controlled
And let me tell you we must scream out loud together
oh together
Somehow we are flying through this sky
Something that will make us feel alive
Sometimes we are fighting to survive
And now we're acting nothing
(nada) in the world, in the world
To be honest you must live for what you want
And only you can keep respect for who you are
To be honest you must learn to take control
And let me tell you we must scream out loud together
oh together
Somehow we are flying through this sky
Something that will make us feel alive
Sometimes we are fighting to survive
And now we're acting nothing
(nada) in the world, in the world
Well, well, well
Cuz be a well, well, well
You will be mine
Somehow we are flying through this sky
Something that will make us feel alive
Sometimes we are fighting to survive
And now we're acting nothing
(nada) in the world, in the world
Somehow we are flying through this sky
Something that will make us feel alive
Sometimes we are fighting to survive
And now we're acting nothing
(nada) in the world, in the world
