Let me tell you a story, it's about you and me
We walked along the narrow road
You held my hand, we were a family
It's was the only thing, you'd ever known

But you decided to let go
And walk away
You bought the lie
You said goodbye

But my hand is the only hand, you need
Why do you keep on holding on to everything but me
Why do you keep on looking up to find a sign
It's been right here all this time
Can't you see, my hand is the only hand you need
Only hand you need

Let me tell you a story, it's about a love affair
We had before you talked away
Don't say you don't remember 'cause I was there
Holding your hand as we laughed and danced the days away

I wanted forever
But you couldn't stay
You bought the lie
You said goodbye

But my hand is the only hand, you need
Why do you keep on holding on to everything but me
Why do you keep on looking up to find a sign
It's been right here all this time
Can't you see, my hand is the only hand you need

That one day all your money will be spent
And I'll be waiting here just like the days you left
And you'll come running back into my arms again
You'll come running back, to my arms again

My hand is the only hand, you need
Why do you keep on holding on to everything but me
Why do you keep on looking up to find a sign

It's been right here all this time
Can't you see, my hand is

My hand is the only hand, you need
Why do you keep on holding on to everything but me
Why do you keep on looking up to find a sign
It's been right here all this time
Can't you see, my hand is the only hand you need

The only hand you need
The only hand you need
The only hand you need
