I've been waiting all my life to find you
You could be my puppet without strings
Dr. Jekyll taught me how to bind you Now it feels like you've been pulling me

I try not to let it show
I try not to let it show
There's a monster in my dreams
There's a monster in my dreams
There's a monster in the mirror and an impostor inside
of me

Late at night the crowd has no solution (We're just biting what we're told) Late at night we suffer the same dreams (We're just doing what we're told)
The same haunted water soul pollution (Faithless, faceless, numb and cold)
I can hear their bored regretful screams

I try not to let it show
I try not to let it show
There's a monster in my dreams
There's a monster in my dreams
There's a monster in the mirror and an impostor inside
of me

I try not to let it show
I try not to let it show
There's a monster in my dreams
There's a monster in my dreams There's a monster in the mirror and the devil's in the details
There's a monster in my dreams
There's a monster in my dreams
There's a monster in the mirror and an impostor inside
of me
