It's easy to be good when you know you're good
It's easy to be real when you you're understood
When you're feeling happy and you don't ask why
You open up you're heart and you touch the sky
You know you know you're good

Winning isn't everything as long as you win
Losing is a habit you don't want to begin
You would stop me beating you as best as you could
If you could stop me beating me you you know you would
You know you know you would
