Here today and on my way,
it's time to make it all OK.
You left me here,
I couldn't see solutions were in front of me.
With this fragile happiness,
I'll start over today.
I won't leave you here to suffer,
it's not for everyone I'd rather suffer for instead.
Now that I have blown that cover,
I have been suffering if you're not suffering instead.
Pain and observation meet,
reality's an easy street.
Alone is not so hard to be,
she's gone,
just gone away from me.
With this fragile happiness,
I'll start over today.
I won't leave you here to suffer,
it's not for everyone I'd rather suffer for instead.
There's no reason why you can't be happy with the things you have.
There's no reason why you need me now.
Just have to learn to be alone.
