and we all wind up getting tired of the same thing
the hair on my hands is getting thicker so i suggest we go to bed and sleep until we forget until we can't ignore what's going on and what i've done so far isn't any better

so i might change my dress and you might feel the same cause there's pieces of me that won't do a thing and you can't measure it all cause the smallest things are infinitely larger than you think the whole things on the brink of nothing at all it just doesn't work

and my mouth changes size

and i might change my dress
