Lookin' through the rain to see where the love has gone
But it will shower us again
I wish there was somethin' I could have done
To keep the love I had for you Fifteen is lookin' for some answers she says, she'll risk
it all to find the truth
But in the long run she's got nothin' to lose, only her dreams can come true
So I send her on her way she hesitates, not too sure it's the right thing to do She wants to compare me to the others, but our love won't carry through

Fifteens' looking for somethin' she's not too sure maybe it's what she left behind She just turns her back on the past, spreads her wings she's free at last
Fifteen is lookin' for some answers she says, she'll risk
it all to find the truth
But in the long run she's got nothin' to lose, only her
dreams can come true
Free at Last.
