

Fighting Instinct

"Glass Table"

Visit "Glass Table" on MotoLyrics.com

There's nothing like being torn apart
By what holds you together
Should have built my house in something solid
Standing in the center of a glass table
But can't see through until it breaks
I lose my breath, and now I ask, now I ask

Have you ever breathed for me?
Filled my lungs when I could not
Captured breath and rescued me
Did I call it normalcy, normalcy
Breathe for me

Follow me in lost despair
Strings of song in minor key
Our philosophical truth in which we trust
Failed behind the wheel of your automobile
Knocked me in the chest voided of my breath
Can I breathe, can I breathe?

Visit Fighting Instinct page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.