The party rages on that night
Thoughts trickle in my mind, remember it's my time
Bottled all my regrets inside
The cap is turning loose hold on and I refuse
With open eyes and two deaf ears
Lights are flashing bright, causing me to go blind
With you always stuck in my mind
Wherever I may go, you follow me around

I can see you I can know when you're around
Your attitude brings me down
I can feel you I can know when you're around

Your scent so close I can feel you

You crossed my double yellow line
Traffic caused to swerve, causing me to lose my nerve
The leaves are falling oh so bright
Falling round and round, turn brown when hit the ground
Your whispers ringing in my ear
Temptation growing near, you can smell the fear
With you always stuck in my thoughts
Wherever I may go, you follow me around
