This suffocation is killing me
It's killing me
Suffocation, one breath is all I need
One breath is all I need for strength to set myself free

I think, I'm losing hope
I'm losing time
They always tell me, don't waste your time
Darkness surrounds
I promise to never Never forget why

This is not your war
This is not your war
This is not your war
I will never ever forget why

I even try to take
The little that I have
And turn it into something more
Something worth the pain

I promise to never ever forget why
Because it means so much more to me than anyone can see

I heard the stories told
They always held me back
Because doubt is in the best of us
The stories always set me back

So much for stories told
They only held me back
Defeat could break the best of us
It's stories always set me back
Always set me back

This suffocation killing me
Suffocation, one breath is all I need
One breath is all I need for strength to set myself free

Don't let me destroy myself

Don't let me destroy myself
