

Final Prayer

"Miro"

Slumber has erased me
Comfort is only skin deep
But dirty memory fills reason
To die correct and missing

I burned up, I burned
A blaze upon re-entry
Slow down
I woke up I woke up
Face down and on the shoreline
Paradise is mine

Shadows and living trees
Reach out to embrace me
This place here is where we don't exist
He carries dead weight with his first

I burned up, I burned
A blaze upon re-entry
Slow down
I woke up I woke up
Face down and on the shoreline
Paradise is mine

You can't take it with you
You can't take it with you
Frame by frame we begin to change
Skeletons with robot brains
Cheap vodka bought for yourself
A repetition upon the stage
Over and over again, over and over again
Where is the end
